

GIRL FRIEND OF SLAIN TEACHER IS QUESTIONED

HUNDREDS AT HIGH SCHOOL DEDICATION

Address of Evening is Made By State Supt. Francis G. Blair

Several hundred persons inspected Dixon's new high school building yesterday afternoon and evening and attended the formal dedication of the beautiful institution of learning last evening. Others were availing themselves of the opportunity offered by the board of education in declaring open house this afternoon and Sunday afternoon in order that as many as possible might view the building and inspect the various departments.

The big gymnasium was well filled last evening for the formal dedication program at which time Francis G. Blair, of Springfield, Ill., State Superintendent of the Department of Public Instruction was the guest speaker. President Thomas W. Clayton of the board of education presided during the evening. Preceding the program, the high school orchestra under the direction of Miss Marion Lawson very ably entertained with a concert of several fine selections. There were many expressions of congratulations for the young musicians and their director for the efficient program rendered.

President Clayton called the gathering to their feet while two verses of "America" were sung and Rev. J. Franklin Young, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, pronounced the invocation. The girls' and boys' glee clubs directed by Miss Lawson sang selections.

Balance Remains

President Clayton outlined the campaign by which the board of education and the tax payers of the school district made possible the beautiful new building. He recalled the campaign as launched, the contest in the selection of a site and finally the bond issue. He stated that the building as it stands has been paid for and that a balance remains in the treasury. In conclusion President Clayton expressed his thanks to the members of the board of education and to Prof. I. B. Potter and Principal A. H. Lancaster for the fine spirit of cooperation in making the new high school a reality.

Deming Hinz, accompanied at the piano by Miss Marion Ahrens, sang, "On the Road to Mandalay" and responded with an encore.

Prof. I. B. Potter gave a very interesting talk in which he outlined the consolidation of the north and south side district ten years ago and in the eleventh year after the consolidation, he said, the high school students occupied a new building.

The members of the board of education during the last few years have had in mind this one accomplishment, Prof. Potter said, and followed by naming those who had served on the board during this time, P. K. Tribou, present member who served ten years ago and who has been probably the most active of any of the personnel of the body in observing the progress in construction of Dixon's new educational home.

Many Obstacles

"One does not realize the tremendous detail in construction of a building such as this and the obstacles facing the board of education," said the speaker. "The architect is the most important part of the building of any structure. The board of education made several trips visiting high school buildings within a radius of 100 miles and inspecting these structures. They finally decided to interview six architects and by the process of elimination, the question was finally reduced to the firm of Royer, Danley & Smith of Urbana, Ill. Mr. Royer came to Dixon and personally looked over the situation and thoroughly canvassed the details.

"In the construction and furnishing of this beautiful building there has been some criticism, but largely this was on the part of the contractors and was directed largely to Superintendent of Construction H. W. Towsey, who has had the interests of the board of education and the tax payers foremost in his mind throughout the building of this school," Prof. Potter introduced Mr. Towsey to the audience.

"In this age, high schools have become defined to three types of structures, the compact type, the separate and unit type. All of these were considered and the board of education preferred the unit type, which you see in its completed condition this evening."

Faculty Introduced

Superintendent Potter then introduced Principal A. H. Lancaster who in turn presented the members of the faculty. The speaker also presented the members of the board of education.

In introducing the guest speaker of the evening, Professor Potter, stated that State Superintendent Blair was elected to office in 1906 and that he is now completing his sixth consecutive term.

SUFFER MINOR HURTS.

Mrs. Anna Stedard, 240 Everett street, and Miss Anna M. Theiss, 300 Everett street, suffered minor injuries and were severely shaken up when the Pontiac sedan in which they were riding with Oscar Stedard at the wheel, skidded and overturned on the route 6 paving about three miles east of Sterling yesterday afternoon about 3 o'clock. The car was badly damaged and had to be hauled to a Dixon garage.

The Stedard car was coming toward Dixon and the driver turned out to pass a truck. One of the rear wheels left the paving and in attempting to right the machine, it skidded when the wheel regained the paving, and turned over. The driver escaped unhurt.

ILLINOIS MINE STRIKE SLOWLY BREAKING DOWN

Several Shafts Resumed Operation During The Morning

By PHILIP HARRIS (Associated Press Staff Writer)

Taylorville, Ill., Dec. 14.—(AP)—Shrill blasts from two additional mine whistles echoed against the somber haze of the Taylorville coal fields today, as about 500 striking coal miners went back to their picks in Peabody mine No. 8 at Tovey and the Pana Coal Company mine No. 1 at Pana.

The resumption of operations at these shafts, two of the six shut down by the walkout of the National Miners Union last Monday, indicated the strikers probably were weakening with nearly 100 of their lead under bonds or in jail.

At mine No. 8, more than half of the regular force of 800 appeared with their dinner pails this morning and started hoisting coal. A few strikers stood around in chilly groups but there was no disorder except for the arrest of two men who taunted deputy sheriffs, apparently trying to stir up some trouble.

Third of Force Works

The Pana mine reported 50 loaders went back to work this morning, in addition to the top workers and company men, this was about a third of the regular force, but enough to hoist coal. There was no picketing at the Pana Company mine nor at the Penwell mine in Pana which remained shut down pending a secret referendum of its men this afternoon.

W. C. Argust, General Superintendent of the Peabody mines in this county affected by the strike, said mine 58 in Taylorville had 89 men on hand today. Mine 7 at Kincaid which is still under military guard had 34 men on hand but was not in operation.

Today was pay day in the mines and officials said they thought this would have beneficial influence on the miners. The pay for the last two weeks was said to be one of the best in recent years, since the recent cold weather had increased the demand for coal.

Guardsmen Idle

The National Guardsmen, on duty in the strike area since Monday night were finding little activity today. One detail was dispatched this morning to patrol the highways leading to the mines but came back with a report that there were no disorders. As a precautionary measure, another detail remained stationed around the county jail where more than three score of the strikers were held in quarters suitable for less than 20.

Later it was learned the pickets had been at Auburn but were prevented from stopping there by a squad of deputy sheriffs. They moved on to Peabody mines in Sangamon county, but were ordered off by deputy sheriffs after succeeding in getting about 25 of the 300 miners at 51 to join the strikers.

AROUND SPRINGFIELD

Springfield, Ill., Dec. 14.—(AP)—Falling in a "third effort to picket" the Panther Creek mine at Auburn, the National Miners Union this morning directed its attention to the Cora mine north of Springfield and prevented 100 of the miners from going to work.

Anticipating the third attempt to pull the Panther Creek miners out on strike today county authorities met the strike agitators on the hard road near the mine and turned them back. The picketers were headed by Freeman Thompson, international organizer of the National Miners Union.

Miners at the Panther Creek shaft have refused to have anything to do with the strike sympathizers and yesterday drove 19 men from the mine on charges that they had aided in the picketing. Two more of the alleged picketers were "discharged" this morning.

After being turned away from the Panther Creek mine, the pickets went to the Cora pit. Blocking the road they succeeded in stopping approximately 100 men before they were dispersed. More than 175 miners who arrived later went to work in the mine.

Joseph Leda, executive board member for the Springfield sub-district of the United Mine Workers of America, has called a meeting of the Cora local and asserts that the entire local will be back at work on Monday.

Catherine Stewart, 8, Died This Morn

Catherine Anna Stewart, eight-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Stewart, 844 North Dixon avenue, passed away at the family residence this morning at 2 o'clock, death the Cora local and asserts that the entire local will be back at work on Monday.

Resulting from diphtheria. Funeral services which were private were conducted from the home this afternoon at 3 o'clock with interment in Oakwood.

GOODFELLOWS, ATTENTION

FIVE TRUSTIES DUG THEIR WAY OUT OF PRISON

Oklahoma Prison Was the Scene Of Escape Last Evening

McAlester, Okla., Dec. 14.—(UP)—Five trustees who escaped from the state penitentiary here last night by digging a hole under the wall were sought with bloodhounds today.

The absence of the convicts was first noted at dinner time. Officers declined to reveal their names.

OUTBREAK FOILED

Sacramento, Cal., Dec. 14.—(UP)—Two Polson penitentiary convicts, in solitary confinement after a note indicating a threatened attempt at a prison break had been found, lived up to the underworld code today by refusing to "squal" on their confederates.

The note, instructions for overpowering guards, was discovered in the cell occupied by C. J. Fitzgerald, serving a life sentence for murder, and Joe Long serving five years to life for robbery.

Guards were doubled, a general lock-up was ordered, and the prison was searched for arms.

PRISON POLICY ISSUE

Auburn, N. Y., Dec. 14.—(UP)—Issues of prison policy today overshadowed other developments at Auburn prison, scene of a desperate outbreak in which eight convicts and the principal keeper were killed.

While Warden Edgar S. Jennings in his first official statement defended his actions during the period in which the desperate prisoners tried to bargain for their freedom with his life, the administration of his acting successor, Sergeant of the Guard George Sullivan, was assailed as a "reign of terror" and the resignation of Dr. Raymond F. C. Kieb, State Commissioner of Correction was demanded by Jennings' friends.

The National Society of Penal Information in a resolution made public at its headquarters in New York City, declared Kieb was unfit to carry out Governor Roosevelt's program of prison reform and unable to deal effectively with the present emergency.

Wants Official Report

The Governor said he would take no cognizance of the matter until it was laid before him officially.

Meanwhile prison authorities had recovered six of the 12 revolvers which were in convict hands during the revolt and continued their search for the rest of the arms.

Warden Jennings, in his first discussion of the outbreak with newspapermen, named Max Becker, Brooklyn gunman, as the man who fired the shot that killed Principal Keeper George A. Durnford at the outset of the trouble.

Becker is in the hospital with a wound.

MOTHER, SISTER OF FRANKLIN TO APPEAR IN CASE

Wife Of Allegedly Murdered Man Is Being Sought

Mountain View, Ark., Dec. 14.—(UP)—The wife, mother and sister of Connie Franklin, supposed torch murder victim, have been found and will appear to confront the man who claims to be "Franklin." Prosecuting Attorney Hugh Williamson announced today.

Williamson said he had definitely located the mother and sister of Franklin and expected also to have his wife, whom he deserted after escape from an asylum, appear at the trial Monday of the five men charged with murdering the illiterate farm hand.

The mother is Mrs. Clarence Combs, who lives at Oxford, Ark., with the sister.

"Mrs. Combs has seen hospital records of Franklin and has identified him as her son," Williamson said. "Friends of the Franklin whom his mountain sweetheart, Tiller Rumber, says she saw murdered last March 9, also have said the hospital records tally with the Franklin they knew."

"We have definitely established the 'Franklin' who has appeared here to declare he is the real Connie Franklin, is not the man who was confined to the state hospital two years ago."

"We are checking hospital records now in effort to locate the wife and two children of Franklin. We expect them here to prove this man is a paid impostor," Williamson said.

Cubs' Management Stops Fight Talk

Chicago, Dec. 14.—(UP)—The management of the Chicago Cubs today forbade its star outfielder, Hack Wilson, to fight Arthur (The Great) Shires, White Sox first baseman and pugilist, next month for the heavyweight championship of the Chicago diamonds and sundry thousands of dollars.

President William L. Veck of the Cubs put an end to the fight talk when he announced the Cubs would not countenance the bout, which appeared to be rolling up a hillside like a snowball coasting down a hillside.

Veck refused to predict what would happen to Wilson if he should defy the order and mix with Shires anyway.

Former Spouse Of Rich Rancher Held

Los Angeles, Dec. 14.—(AP)—Mrs. Helen Lois Andrade, 56, was held here on a charge of assault to commit murder, sworn to by her former husband, Albert F. Andrade, millionaire rancher of Arizona and Mexico.

The arrest followed Andrade's report last night that his former wife fired five shots at him; his present wife, Mrs. Judith Lavender Andrade, and their six-week-old baby.

STATE OFFICER CHURCH FOUND 13TH UNLUCKY

Met Injury In Crash North Of The City Late Yesterday

State Motorcycle Officer Kenneth L. Church was the victim of another accident on Friday, the 13th about 3:30, while riding his motorcycle north on the state highway route 26 paving at the intersection with the Lowell Park road. Bert Miller, residing in Swissville, driving a Chevrolet coupe, is said to have failed to stop before driving onto the state road from the direction of Lowell Park and the officer, who was on his way to Polo, crashed into the side of the machine.

Church was thrown across the back of the coupe and his body skidded on the paving, practically tearing away all of his clothing. His motorcycle was practically demolished. The officer sustained a gash across the forehead and a deep gash in the side of his left leg and for a time it was thought that his left shoulder had been fractured. The car was considerably damaged and thrown into a ditch alongside the road by the force of the collision.

Two workmen employed at the new filling station observed the accident, and went to the assistance of the state officer, hurrying him to the office of a local physician. An x-ray examination disclosed no broken bone, but the officer's back was badly wrenched and he will be confined to his bed for several days recovering from the effects of the accident. Miller will be taken into court on a charge of failing to stop before entering upon a state highway.

Steamship Bremen Has Rough Passage

New York, Dec. 14.—(AP)—The steamship Bremen, fastest ocean liner, was in port today after a battle with an Atlantic storm which delayed her nearly three days and resulted in injuries to 10 passengers.

Twice during the voyage, Captain Leopold Ziegenbein said, the ship was hove to. Last Saturday, the second day out from Cherbourg, her run for 24 hours was cut to 120 miles. She has made 700 miles in 24 hours.

Huge waves rolled up by a wind which reached a velocity of 120 miles an hour tossed the ship so that she rolled 18 degrees at one time. The rolling flung passengers about resulting in injuries which were treated by the ship's surgeon.

VOLUNTEERED INFORMATION IN LONG NOTE

Two Officers Sent To Madison Today To Question Her

BULLETIN.

Madison, Wis., Dec. 14.—(UP)—Esther L. Struckmeyer, Phoenix, Ariz., a journalism student at the University of Wisconsin, was identified today by her landlady as the source of information which brought Rockford officials here to confer with her regarding possible identity of the slayer of Miss Cordelia Gummshiemer, Rockford teacher.

Rockford, Ill., Dec. 14.—(UP)—The quest for information to solve the mysterious murder of Miss Cordelia Gummshiemer, Rockford high school teacher, turned today to Madison, where a former school mate of the slain teacher telephoned that she had information that might be valuable in the investigation.

Sheriff Harry Baldwin and Assistant Chief of Police Homer Read have gone to Madison to interview the mysterious witness, whose name Chief A. E. Bargen has refused to make public.

Chief Bargen disclosed at noon that the woman friend of the slain teacher telephoned him two nights ago that she had information which she believed might be of value in solving the crime. He said she had hesitated about informing officers of what she knew, and she declined to divulge anything to him, except under the pledge of strictest secrecy as to her identity.

The Chief said he asked her to write this information to him and yesterday afternoon he received a two page special delivery letter from his Madison informant.

Intimated Much

The letter intimated more than it actually contained, he explained "so I sent these officers to Madison to question this young woman."

The Madison girl, reported to be a post-graduate student - instructor working for her Master's degree, told Bargen that she had known Miss Gummshiemer for eight or ten years; had visited in her home at Belleville, Ill., and at Rockford, and had known her when she attended summer school at the University of Wisconsin in Madison two years ago.

She intimated that she was familiar with the side of Miss Gummshiemer's life which appears to be little known to her intimates here, that in her association with men friends and her various ardent love affairs which were not disclosed until after love letters were found in her apartment following discovery of the murder last Sunday night.

Chief Bargen at noon was awaiting a telephone report from Read and Baldwin on the results of their interview. He said that if any information of value was obtained, he would disclose the woman's name this afternoon.

Financial Wizard Faces Second Trial

Milwaukee, Wis., Dec. 14.—(AP)—Cleared of fraud charges only a few months ago, Elmer S. Hucksins, "Financial Wizard" of Hancock, Wis., today faced a new inquiry into his mysterious business.

E. J. Koelzer, Assistant United States District Attorney, announced that a federal grand jury is to investigate operations of the firm headed by Hucksins and his son, George, of Cedar Rapids, Iowa.

Midwestern investors, government officials have estimated, have placed three million dollars with Hucksins, who paid dividends of from 26 to 52 percent.

"We have additional evidence," Koelzer announced. "At what time it will be presented I am unable to say." He prosecuted the last case against Hucksins in September when the financier won a dismissal of charges that he had used the mails to defraud.

At that time the government sought to establish that Hucksins was not in the cigar business as he claimed.

Henry Schminkey of Davenport, Iowa, a former resident of this city, passed away at his home yesterday afternoon. Funeral services will be conducted Sunday afternoon with burial at Davenport. The deceased is a brother-in-law of Joseph Dauntler of Dixon, and had many friends here.

Don't Forget The Orphans

five term of office and in 1930 will have rounded out 24 years as head of the Department of Public Instruction of Illinois. He then presented Mr. Blair who delivered the dedicatory address.

"In the erection of high schools buildings or schools not only in Illinois but in other states, we are always confronted by the complaints of taxpayers," the speaker said in opening.

"but in the instance of this beautiful institution of education which we assemble this evening to dedicate, the children, the students of this high school are not unmindful. Of whatever the cost this building represents, it is worth every penny of it. Money invested in the education of children is one of the best investments. Bread that returns after many days is the bread that is cast upon the educational waters of any community.

Is Students' Building

"With the opening of a great building such as this for educational purposes, the boys and girls, the students of this community, the members of the faculty and the tax payers have a great pride. For the students these walls fairly speak to them.

"They are not standing still or marking time, but are providing the great cross-section of life. The child from the lowliest home in this community can truthfully say that this is his or her school building.

"In inspecting this beautiful institution of learning today, I was informed that the auditorium has not been completed. I believe that in the city of Dixon, the spirit of the people will finish this auditorium. I have often heard of Dixon, not only in Illinois but outside of the state and of its beauty in the Rock River valley. I believe that Dixon has expressed its idealism in this beautiful educational structure erected upon the banks of Rock river where all passing through your city may see your high school and marvel at its beauty as I have done this afternoon. I congratulate this board of education whose only compensation for the erection of this institution has been nagging and criticism. I congratulate the teachers and members of this high school faculty and feel that this new building with its fine modern equipment should spur them on. I also congratulate the parents of the students and the tax payers of this community and in behalf of the state of Illinois, I dedicate this building to the education of the children of this community.

The speaker dwelt at some length in comparing modern educational advancement with those of his own boyhood days spent in southern Illinois.

Rev. Walter W. Marshall, pastor of the First Baptist church pronounced the benediction which concluded the dedication program.

AMUSEMENTS

"STRANGE INTERLUDE"
CHICAGO.

Over one million and a half people have either seen or read "Strange Interlude," Eugene O'Neill's sensational 9 act drama which is now playing at the Blackstone Theatre. It is the fourth production of the New York Theatre Guild's third subscription season in Chicago. Everybody is talking about the play. It is in the air. Many people have disagreed violently with some of the points in this epic of a woman's struggle for happiness—some calling the central character selfish and unscrupulous in her envelopment of the lives of three men; others calling her a faithful exponent of woman's deepest instincts—but, no matter how much they disagree, it has been noticed in every city where the play has been given that every member of the audience is always promptly back in his seat for the beginning of the second part of the play after the dinner intermission of an hour and twenty minutes.

It is the dinner intermission that is one of the most interesting novelties of the whole play. Because of its length, 9 acts, it is necessary for the curtain to rise each evening at 5:30 sharp. At 7:40 comes the dinner intermission which lasts until 9, when the play resumes with a final curtain at 11. Hotels and restaurants in the vicinity of the Blackstone Theatre are offering special "Strange Interlude" dinners. Special service at this times makes it possible to eat leisurely and return to the theatre in ample time for the 9 o'clock curtain. The important thing to remember is that the curtain rises each evening at 5:30 sharp and that no one is seated while the play is in progress.

There are good seats available for all performances and the engagement is limited.

JAPAN SENDS
SOVIET GOVT.Insists On Truth Of Conditions In No.
Manchuria

Tokyo, Dec. 14.—(AP)—The Japanese government today informed the Russian Foreign Office that Japan is not satisfied with scanty news concerning Japanese nationals in northwestern Manchuria, where Russian troops have occupied a wide zone of the Kihingian Mountains.

While an international train, carrying consular officers of several nations rolled from Harbin toward the occupied zone where the officers hope to conduct a first hand investigation, Japan, through its embassy at Moscow, informed the Russian government that details would be insisted upon in the future.

The Japanese embassy also called the attention of Moscow to the recent statement of the Russian Ambassador at Tokyo to the effect that Soviet troops have been withdrawn from Chinese territory. This, it was intimated, was plainly at variance with the facts, since now a considerable portion of the Chinese Eastern Railway zone is occupied by Russian troops.

Christmas Buying
Good, Hoover Told

Washington, Dec. 14.—(UP)—Christmas buying throughout the nation this year is somewhat heavier in volume than last year, President Hoover has been advised by the Commerce Department and other government agencies.

This he accepted as "a very good indication" of business conditions generally. The President is understood to be pleased with indications he has found that the average volume of sales is being well maintained.

NOW HE IS TWENTY-ONE

Dear little lad,
So swift the years have fled,
And now I stand tiptoe to reach your lean, brown cheek.

Dear little lad,
The long plays days are done,
And your eager feet have sped
To a land far off, where stirring deeds
Will test your strength and skill.

Dear little lad,
So short a time it seems
Since you listened with your eager eyes alight,
To your mother's fairy tales.
Oh, little lad
With head so full of youthful dreams
Though you dwell in the uttermost part of the sea,
Love's faithful promise comforts me.

And though your pathway lies
Through tangled forest,
Or the trackless skies
We know His loving wisdom guides and guards.
The fire shall not kindle
Nor the waters overflow,
For His unfailing love goes with you
All the way.

Christian Church Choir Is Surprised

The Christian church choir was privileged a delightful "supplement," last evening, following the more-strenuous-than-usual rehearsal of the regular hymn-services for Sunday, and the Christmas anthems. On invitation of the director, Miss Ora Photo, and the organist, Mrs. Nate Morrill, the two dozen singers descended to the church dining-room, and there found a lunch fully satisfactory for the most artistic and aesthetic of appetites, the favor of their gracious leaders. Oysters, pressed chicken, bananas in custard, and all the conventional accompanying entrees, gave a completeness to the menu, which left only the Christmas candles and the beautiful diminutive "Tannenbaum" centerpiece to make perfect.

Sting, feasting, fellowship, — and some speech-making, of course took place. Miss Photo's five years of service with the choir, and Mrs. Nate Morrill's first year, just closing, have given them a genuinely beloved place in the esteem of the church-musicians and the congregation. F. M. Johnson, chairman of the Church Music Committee, voiced this regard in his own gallant fashion.

A feature was the presentation to Mr. and Mrs. Derr of tokens, on the eve of their departure to spend the winter in Florida. Mrs. Derr received a leather hand-bag, and "Al" was remembered by a pocket addition of Robert Burns works, (cigars).

Health Follows as Matter of Course

When you buy T. B. Health Seals your money is expended right in this county for the assistance of those on the verge of tuberculosis and who need milk and strengthening foods, and for those who are already suffering with the White Plague. Through the assistance of the public in the years past the death rate from this dreadful malady has been greatly lessened and good food, rest and fresh air are the great helpers. Mrs. J. M. McCleary of North Galena avenue has the seal sale in charge and is the "faithful" keeper of the door, as it were. If you are still thinking about how many sheets of the seals you shall get, (those sheets you received in the mail, you know) well, buy as many as you conveniently can, for you'll get return a hundred fold from your own conscience alone. Everybody is buying seals—it's being done, you know, it really is.

Baldwin Auxiliary Christmas Party

The Baldwin Auxiliary S. W. V. will meet Tuesday evening in G. A. R. hall and at this time enjoy their annual Christmas party. All comrades of the S. W. V. Post and families and all Auxiliary members and their families are cordially invited to be present. All attending are requested to remember the gift for the Christmas "grab bag" and a delightful evening for all is anticipated.

4 slices bacon, cut in 1 inch pieces
3 tablespoons chopped onions
2 cups cooked rice
1-4 teaspoon salt
1-4 teaspoon celery salt
1-4 teaspoon pepper
2 cups tomatoes
Heat the bacon in a frying pan. When hot, add and brown the onions and rice. Add the rest of the ingredients and cook slowly for 20 minutes. Stir frequently.

Fruit Salad, Serving 4
1-2 cup diced pineapple
1-2 cup diced grapefruit
1-2 cup diced seeded white cherries
1-2 cup sliced bananas
1-2 cup stiff mayonnaise
Mix and chill the pineapple, grapefruit and cherries. Drain off any juices and add the bananas. Serve in lettuce cups and top with the mayonnaise. Serve at once.

Sour Cream, Caramel Cookies (4 dozen)
1 cup fat (butter and lard)
2 cups dark brown sugar
1 teaspoon vanilla
1-4 teaspoon salt
2 teaspoon cinnamon
1 teaspoon nutmeg
4 cups flour
1-3 cup sour cream
1 teaspoon soda
1 cup nuts
Cream the fat and sugar. Add the rest of the ingredients and drop portions from the end of a spoon onto greased baking sheets. Space 3 inches. Bake for 12 minutes in a moderate oven.

A Timely Recipe
Stuffed Sweet Potatoes, Carlton
8 sweet potatoes
1-2 teaspoon salt
1-4 teaspoon pepper
3 tablespoons butter
8 marshmallows
8 small pieces of pineapple (1-2 inch cubes)
Wash the potatoes and bake in a moderate oven until very soft when gently pressed with the fingers. Make cross-like cuts in the sides of the potatoes and, using a spoon, scoop out the pulp, leaving the cases intact. Mash the potato pulp and add the salt, pepper and butter. Beat for 2 minutes. Refill the cases. Cut the marshmallows half through and insert the pineapple. Place the filled marshmallows on top the potatoes. Bake for 10 minutes in a moderate oven. The potatoes can be baked at the same time that the fowl is roasting, thereby saving fuel.

Reception to State President War Mothers Delightful Affair
The reception given in G. A. R. hall last evening by the Lee County Chapter of War Mothers to State President of the organization, Mrs. John Strub, who was recently honored in the state election, proved to be a most successful and decidedly enjoyable affair, which was attended by seventy-five, despite many counter attractions in the city.

Every patriotic order in the city was represented and everyone greeted with the short and interesting program given. The hall was appropriately and beautifully decorated in bunting and Old Glory. The War Mothers banner, and the V. F. W. banner, and the War Mothers State Service Flag, which is for the present in Mrs. Strub's keeping; and a number of the smaller flags en masse, were combined in the most beautiful display, for the occasion.

There was music of a most inspiring nature from an organization of which Dixon may well be proud, the Daughters of Union Veterans Drum Corps, under the direction of Howard Woodruff. There were also nice piano selections.

There were a number of recitations, songs and instrumental selections and one of the most delightful features of the evening was the short but interesting address given by the new State President, Mrs. Strub, on the organization of War Mothers, giving a short history and telling why it was formed, its aims and aspirations, and how it was incorporated in 1925 through Congress and how it has grown and prospered.

Two beautiful gifts were presented to the honored guest of the evening, Mrs. Strub. Mrs. Lillian Stevens, who is the president of the Ladies of the G. A. R., made President Strub a lovely personal gift, and the Lee County Chapter of War Mothers presented Mrs. Strub with a handsome necklace, presented by the new State Secretary of War Mothers, Mrs. Clea Bunnell, in each case best wishes and congratulations being heartily voiced in the presentation of the gifts.

After the program all the guests mingled in happy comradeship and chat, and delicious refreshments of ice cream and cake were served. The committee in charge of arrangements for the evening, Mrs. Lee Eastman, Mrs. Jesse Weststead and Mrs. Henry Hardesty, deserve much praise and commendation for the success and enjoyment of the long-to-be-remembered evening.

Held White Shrine Ceremonial, Birthday

Corinthian Shrine No. 40, White Shrine of Jerusalem, held a Ceremonial in Masonic Temple last evening and also celebrated its tenth birthday anniversary. The party was in honor of the charter members who had organized the White Shrine in Dixon and helped to carry it through to success.

The Patrol team of the Shrine gave an excellent drill at 8 o'clock, which showed the result of constant practice and strict attention. Lloyd Lewis is captain of the team and is responsible for their good work. Mrs. Louis Franks is their manager.

During the ceremonial Mrs. Allan Read, Mrs. Bertha Rorick of Dixon and Mr. Humphrey of Morrison contributed appropriate and beautiful music. Mr. Humphrey also sang a solo, "Open the Gates of the Temple."

Mrs. T. Wilbur Leake was escorted as the "Mother" of the Corinthian Shrine, (as it was through her interest and efforts that the White Shrine was organized in Dixon), and she was presented a lovely bouquet of yellow roses. She was also the first Worthy High Priestess of the Shrine.

The present Worthy High Priestess Mrs. Gavin Dick, was escorted and presented with a bouquet of yellow chrysanthemums.

Mrs. P. M. Banker of Franklin Grove, was the lecturer for the evening and this was done in her usual pleasing manner.

A delicious luncheon was served at the close of the meeting, which was prepared under the direction of Mrs. Harry Quick, with the help of the committee.

Mrs. C. A. Buchner and her committee had arranged beautiful tables in yellow and green, carrying out the colors in flowers and streamers, and the most fascinating favors of yellow and green airplane nut cups. The entire evening will long be remembered with pleasure by all attending.

Golden Wedding for Mr. and Mrs. George Schrock Enjoyed

Mr. and Mrs. George W. Schrock celebrated their golden wedding anniversary on Wednesday of this week at their home in North Dixon, the event being a most happy one for the bride and groom as well as for those who were privileged to join with them.

At noon the children were all at home to dinner, for the first time in many years. To talk over old times with their parents and to celebrate this anniversary was an occasion never to be forgotten. The children from out of town were Charles Schrock of St. Louis, Mo.; Mabel Eberly of Riverside, California; George Schrock of Springfield, Illinois; Miss Arlene Schrock of Chicago; Mrs. Winifred Leake of DeKalb; and Mrs. Ruby May, of Sterling. The other children live in or near Dixon.

The home was beautifully decorated in keeping with the occasion, golden and bronze chrysanthemums and golden colored roses with palms interspersed making a setting entirely in keeping with the occasion.

During the afternoon a reception was held at the home, numerous relatives, neighbors and friends calling congratulatory Mr. and Mrs. Schrock and wish them many more years of happy wedded life. Many who knew of the occasion sent greetings and it was a great joy to the bride and groom to hear from these friends and relatives, especially those who were near and dear in the days of long ago. Greetings came from Washington, California, Florida, etc.

In the evening all of the children, together with their families, participated in the wedding dinner and reunion. After dinner and during the evening other friends and relatives called and assisted in making this one of the happiest events in the lives of a couple who have been lovers for over a half century, who have rejoiced in victories won, and worked shoulder to shoulder in times of sorrow and distress.

During the evening a mock wedding was witnessed, the methods and costumes being unique. A program was further carried out by the singing of old time songs, reading of a family history and readings by members of the family all in keeping with the occasion. The family presented Mr. and Mrs. Schrock with purses of gold. The bride and groom were also the recipients of many other gifts.

Other guests and relatives from out of town were Miss Maxine Schrock of St. Louis; Edward Sampson, of Chicago; the family of George Schrock of Springfield, Valley; Mrs. Catherine Nair and Mr. and Mrs. Bert Sites and family of Milledgeville; Mr. and Mrs. Lester Robinson of Sterling; Russell May of Sterling; Harold Leake of DeKalb and several others.

The Telegraph joins with the friends and relatives in extending congratulations and best wishes to this highly respected couple.

Mesdames H. D. Bills, G. P. Powell, A. E. Marth and D. G. Palmer were hostesses to the Practical Club and their husbands at a 6:30 dinner held at the Bills' home on Thursday evening. The home was lovely with Christmas decorations. There were thirty-two present. After the delicious dinner was served singing, games and stunts were engaged in which there was much merriment. A small Christmas tree, a-glitter with appropriate trimmings for the center, and red candles at either end, lent color and beauty to the dining table.

After the short business session in the afternoon, a program of guessing contests, and readings by Mrs. L. N. Deutch and Mrs. Will Hill, was very enthusiastically received.

Former Editor Dies

Friends here have received a lovely letter from Mrs. H. H. Frost, of San Francisco, Cal., informing them of the death of her father, November 7th. For several years Mr. Tuttle was principle of the High School and also editor of the Franklin Reporter. We quote from the letter of the daughter "when he did not appear as usual for breakfast Thursday morning, November 7th, we opened his door, only to find that One had been there ahead of us and taken his spirit to God. He had been exceptionally active on Wednesday and went to bed seeming as well as usual. He had not been sick for about three years. He was eighty-three years old last May. He had maintained his usual weight (about two-hundred pounds), wore glasses only for reading, had very little deafness, also maintained his mental powers unimpaired with perhaps a slight forgetfulness that annoyed him occasionally. You who were his former pupils and friends cannot measure the joy your show of greetings gave him on his last birthday. A simple but beautiful service was held Saturday afternoon. The body was cremated and sometime we hope that we may place the ashes in mother's grave at Sterling, Ill. In his desk I found a paper upon which he had recently copied the following poem:

"Life, We've been long together
Through pleasant and through cloudy weather;
'Tis hard to part when friends are
dear—
Perhaps 'twill cost a sigh, a tear.
Then steal away, give little warning,
Choose thine own time;
Say not, 'Good-night, but in some brighter clime
Bid me 'Good-morning.'"

W. C. T. U. Notes
Friday afternoon fourteen members of the local W. C. T. U. met at the home of Mrs. Lorenzo Mattem to greet Mrs. Merrow, the county president.

After the devotion and a short business, Mrs. G. S. Ives conducted a series of Christmas carols. The three canticles from an adjoining conservatory seemed to understand the occasion, and sang all through in truly song-bird fashion, with a few extra thrills thrown in.

At this time Mrs. Merrow in her usual pleasing manner, gave a report of the 55th annual State Convention of the Illinois W. C. T. U. which was held at Danville, Ill.

Among other things she reported that 2,500 new members had been added during the year. It was recommended that one day during December be observed as "Self Denial Day" by every woman in the state. It was urged that each Union do its share in distributing W. C. T. U. literature. A social hour was enjoyed with a very pleasing Christmas luncheon, given by the hostess and her assistants. May we have you with us the next time we go?

The correspondence course for Publicity Chairmen is increasing in interest and value each month. The chairman of the local Publicity Committee, Mrs. Charles Sunday, is taking the course, and is finding it very helpful.

The yearly dues are only 25 cents. Give your name to F. C. Gross, membership chairman, or some other member of this committee.

A Complete Surprise
Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Dysart planned and successfully carried out a surprise on their parents, Friday night at their home south of town. The occasion was the 29th wedding anniversary of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Dysart, and the birthday anniversary of her mother, Mrs. Chas. Albright. The evening was spent in playing progressive 500 at which Mrs. Gussie Messer of Dixon won ladies high score and Mrs. Roy Wendell of this place won low score. The gentlemen's score was drawn between R. C. Gross and Roy Wendell, Roy being the lucky one. J. R. Dysart had low score. During the evening refreshments were served. Several Records On Table Made Friday are in the possession of Erwin Rudolph of Chicago today.
Detroit, Dec. 14—(AP)—New world's records for high run and best game, as well as for the fastest game ever played in a world's championship pocket billiard tournament.

Another mark, that of an average of 10.73 for 375 points made in three games also is claimed for this sensational cueist, who defeated Spencer Livsey of Los Angeles by 125 to a minus 2 in four innings in the Recreation Building last night. Rudolph made an unfinished high run of 111, breaking the mark of 101 made by Ralph Greenleaf against Jerome Keogh in 1924. He also broke the best game mark of five innings, which was held jointly by four other players. He equalled the five inning mark against Joseph J. McCann in his second game. Rudolph also claims the record for speed, running out the 125 points in 37 minutes.

Another remarkable feat pointed out by Referee Ferguson was the fact that Rudolph did not miss a shot.

Daily Health Talk

CHECKING UP ON OURSELVES

By Robert H. Riley, M. D.
Director, Department of Health,
Baltimore, Maryland

This series of articles is prepared under the direction of the Gorgas Memorial Institute, which is organized to perpetuate the life work of the late Major-General Gorgas in preventing unnecessary illness. The headquarters of the Institute are at 1331 G Street, N. W. Washington D. C.

Summer is the time when school children can be given special physical care that is more difficult in the other months because it interferes with school work and other activities of busy families. So special effort was made in Maryland this past summer to check up on younger school children, in order to find out the emergency ailments that require immediate treatment and are seldom neglected, but the ailments and symptoms that do not thrust themselves into our attention, but are often the causes of trouble that grows and grows if it is not remedied. The result showed most satisfactory general health conditions, but also enough preventable troubles to make parents realize that it is dangerous to quote "Let well enough alone" just because the child is not actually "sick".

We examined a total of 3,755 children and found that 34 percent needed dental care; that 34 percent had had tonsils and other throat infections; that 23 percent were underweight, not because they lacked food, but because they were getting the wrong kind of food; that 15 percent had adenoids, causing many of them to be mouth breathers. These were the outstanding results. But we also found that 97 children had lung trouble that needed immediate and serious attention, and that 34 children had difficult vision or hearing which had not heretofore been discovered, but which without a doubt was seriously interfering with their school work and general progress.

There will be less illness this year as a result of caring for these ailments. The children will get along better in school. Parents will have less cause for worry. Doctors' bills will be lower. All in all, this summer roundup was tremendously worth-while to the State, to the schools and to the families.

Shell Shocked War Veteran Suspected

Muncie, Ind., Dec. 13—(UP)—

Deputy sheriffs went to Kentucky today to seize a shell-shocked World War veteran as a suspect in the double murder of Mr. and Mrs. George Heath, aged farm couple, slain in their home by a clubber.

The ex-soldier, believed mentally defective as a result of the convulsions of heavy artillery in France 10 years ago, formerly worked for the Heaths and was accused of sending threatening letters to the family. Heath feared him, it was indicated, by remarks the aged man made at his bank.

The veteran's name was kept secret, pending his arrest.

Evidence also tended to show that the killer tried to gain entrance to the home of the Heaths' daughter, Mrs. N. L. Wallace, who lives nearby. A washbasin was found under a bedroom window after the Wallace dogs had driven away an intruder. The murderer entered the Heath home by the same method.

The couple were beaten to death with a maple club and their bodies found 24 hours later by a milk man.

SPORTS
OF ALL SORTSHACK AND ART
OFFERED HUGE
SUM FOR SCRAPCub Outfielder Agrees To Meet Sox First Base
man In Ring

BY WILLIAM WEEKES
Associated Press Sports Writer
Chicago, Dec. 14—(AP)—A four-round boxing match between two baseball players whose pugilistic reputations largely rest on their accomplishments in extemporaneous, not-for-profit fighting, is causing more excitement than championship battles recently staged in Chicago.

Promoter Jim Mullen has signed Charles Arthur (The Great) Shires, the Chicago White Sox exuberant first baseman, and Lewis (Hack) Wilson, slugging centerfielder for the National League champion Chicago Cubs, for a city series match next January. So great is interest in the fight that Mullen today was negotiating with Chicago Stadium officials for use of the huge arena when he brings the American and National League batters together.

Wilson, at his home in Martinsburg, W. Va., yesterday agreed to fight the cocky White Sox infielder when Mullen met his price of $10,000 and $1,000 for training expenses—a record sum for a first engagement. Shires is under contract to fight for Mullen on a percentage basis.

Shires is the more experienced ringman, at least professionally. For he has had one fight for which he was paid, while Wilson's bouts have been of impromptu nature and have won him nothing but fines and suspensions. Shires made his bow in formal boxing competition last Monday night, and scored a sensational 21-second knockout over Dangerous Dan Day, a Cleveland youth said to have been imported for the purpose of avenging Lena Blackburne, former manager of the White Sox, whom Shires twice conquered in free-hand bouts.

Wilson's record includes a win over Edward Young, a milkman, who made remarks about the pudgy outfielder during a game at Wrigley Field; a no-decision bout with Ray Kolp, Cincinnati Red hurler, at Wrigley Field, and a victory over Pete Donohue, another Cincinnati pitcher, at the Union Station, Chicago.

Shires has his two victories over Lena Blackburne, and claims a collective triumph over Blackburne, Lou Barbour, traveling secretary of the White Sox, and a couple of house detectives, in a Philadelphia hotel room battle last summer.

Shy Arthur was calm almost bored, when told that Wilson had agreed to the match, but good for one of his characteristically modest statements:

Shires is modest. "Hack will think he is looking in to the sun again, when I start throwing them at him. The fact that he belongs to the National League, which really is a minor league, doesn't prod my major league pride."

Wilson said he hadn't thought up any mean remarks to make at The Great One, but guessed the Cub Sox angle would do for a grudge. The Cub slugger immediately began planning his training campaign, and mentioned Tommy Loughran as his choice for an instructor.

George Trafiton, 225-pound center of the Chicago Bears, who will be Shires' opponent at White City Monday night, issued a warning to Charles Arthur:

Trafiton's Warning "Tell Shires to forget about this Wilson fight until he gets by me—which he won't. I think I'll just put a stop to all this racket about a Shires-Wilson fight, by stopping the guy Monday night."

The warning failed to impress the great one.

"Trafiton? I'll use him for a sparring partner. One poke will take care of him Monday night."

The amazing purses offered Wilson and Shires have caused a feeling of unrest among the journeyman fighters who depend on the knuckle trade for livelihood. The boys who have sacrificed years and their facial features to their business, can't understand how two baseball players can jump into their racket, and demand—and get—such purses. Several have threatened retaliatory measures, saying they will break in to baseball, unless baseball players stay out of the fight business.

Mack Sees Reason
For Waning Interest

Princeton, N. J., Dec. 14—(AP)—Connie Mack, manager of the world champion Athletics, blames waning interest in baseball among university undergraduates, according to an interview with the Princetonian, student daily, published today.

Mack said that professional baseball's general ban of golf among ball players was due to a fear of the same thing—that the players would begin to talk of nothing but golf. The physical damage of golf, he added to leg fatigue, which is not serious.

The seven-time winner of the American League pennant said that a large measure of disinterest in base-

Passenger Sketches Rescue

A THRILLING MID-ATLANTIC RESCUE, accomplished in the teeth of a full gale and in semi-darkness, is pictured above exclusive for the Evening Telegraph and NEA Service as it was witnessed by a famous woman artist. At the left you see how passengers and crew aboard the U. S. liner Republic watched a lifeboat crew battle with the waves as it returned with the crew of the sinking schooner Gander Deal, visible in the distance at the upper right. The latter, a British craft, had drifted helplessly for days, its rudder lost and lifeboats smashed. Lower right is the artist who sketched the thrilling scene from the deck of the Republic; she is Mary Bonner, of San Antonio, Texas, returning to the United States after receiving in France a decoration for her work in etching.

MOUNTAINOUS SEAS, driven by a forerunner of the most disastrous gales that ever swept the eastern coast of Europe, threatened the U. S. liner Republic as she stood by in mid-Atlantic to rescue the crew of the British schooner Gander Deal. The upper photo, taken for the Dixon Telegraph and NEA Service, shows how waves broke over the prow of the big passenger ship, and below you see the principal figures in the thrilling rescue. Left to right are Captain A. M. Moore of the Republic, Captain Manuel Barbour of the Gander Deal, the latter's first mate, Lewis Burry, and Chief Officer H. L. Winslow of the Republic, who commanded the lifeboat crew. The eleven men saved were at the point of collapse after battling the storm for days in their helpless ship.

ball had its beginning in the fact that the college game, at its height in the late eighties and the early nineties, began to deteriorate in quality. He urged colleges and universities to obtain the best possible coaching as the first step in reviving interest.

"Without the backing of the campus," Mack continued, "baseball players lack spirit."

other game tonight will bring together the two cellar-dwellers, Pittsburgh and the New York Americans, at Pittsburgh.

Tomorrow night Toronto will travel to Detroit to meet the Cougars; Boston will play the Americans at New York and Pittsburgh will clash with the Blackhaws at Chicago.

Shires Threatens To Quit Baseball Chicago, Dec. 14—(AP)—Charles Arthur (the Great) Shires wants $25,000 to play first base for the White Sox next summer—or else.

Shires, whose contract last year called for $8,500, demands the big increase, or, he declares, the American League will lose its greatest first baseman.

"When I beat a few more of these alleged fighters, I will be ready to talk terms with Mr. Comiskey," he said. "I want $25,000 to play that first sack for the White Sox, and if I don't get it, I will keep on fighting. My contract last year called for $8,500 but by the time I got through paying fines and salary deducted for suspensions, I didn't have more than $5,000 left. And I've got to get it back."

Clinton Bowlers Play Here Sunday The Clinton Recreation Five will motor to Dixon tomorrow to engage in a three game series with Arthur Carme's crew, "The Good Eats Shop."

This is a return match, the Dixon bowlers having motored to Clinton two weeks previous. The Good Eats Shop will be represented by the following bowlers: Arthur Carme, capt.; Edw. Worley, P. Cleary, W. Hodson and P. J. Moerschbacher. A crowd of rooters will be present representing both teams.

Referee Declared Fight No Contest Boston, Dec. 14—(AP)—A no-contest verdict ended the non-title bout between Jackie Fields of Los Angeles, world's welterweight champion, and "Gorilla" Jones of Akron, O., in the seventh round last night. The Referee, Joe O'Connor, stopped the fray declaring that Jones was not giving his usual exhibition.

Fields burst into tears. The State Boxing Commission ordered Eddie Mack, promoter, to pay both purses. From the opening of the fight, the contestants were continually jeered by the crowd of 18,000.

O'Connor's verdict was not approved by Eugene Buckley, member of the State Boxing Commission at the ringside. He said Jones' lack of action made the match dull.

McLARNIN PUTS
RUBY TO SLEEP
IN SHORT ORDERBaby - Faced Scrapper
Shows Real Clas
In N. Y. Match

BY ALAN GOULD
Associated Press Sports Editor
New York, Dec. 14—(AP)—The baby-faced kid is still the killer of the ring.

Irish Jimmy McLarnin, the cherubic welterweight who looked as though he didn't have a savage thought in his head, crushed the jewel of New York's Ghetto, Ruby Goldstein, last night in less than four minutes. After a short but sensational and highly dramatic battle, McLarnin stretched the handsome Jewish boy on the canvas for the full count of ten with only 52 seconds of the second round elapsed.

There had been some talk beforehand that Ruby would not or could not "take it" but the pride of the east side gave a magnificent exhibition of courage before he was battered to a limp hulk by one of the hardest hitters of his size. But Ruby won the admiration, the roars of the capacity crowd of 20,000.

Goldstein was floored twice by McLarnin's slashing attack before he took the final count. Only the bell saved him from a knockout in the first round, when he got to his feet after a count of nine and reeled along the ropes.

Ruby Courageous. Ruby, his pale features swollen and his soft eyes bloodshot, came out warily in the second round, stabbing somewhat futilely now, for there seemed not much chance for him. McLarnin lashed his right to the jaw. Goldstein toppled over the lower stand, his body outside on the edge of the ring, his legs draped over the ropes. Somehow, at the count of nine, he hauled himself back to his feet. The baby-faced one coolly forced his prey to the center of the ring, and drove lefts and rights to the head. Ruby toppled over backward, took the final count on his back and had to be carried to his corner by Referee Lou Macaula.

Jimmy was pitted against one of the fastest, cleverest ringmen New York has produced since Benny Leonard, with the added threat of a stiff punch, but the Irish lad did a thorough, workmanlike job. He outsmarted and outfought Ruby. He took Goldstein's hardest wallops without yielding an inch.

His victory established him beyond doubt as the outstanding contender for the welterweight title now held by Jackie Fields. The ballyhoo for this can now go on.

Would Support All College Athletes Baton Rouge, La., Dec. 14—(AP)—Major W. H. McKellar, faculty chairman of athletics at Sewanee, today placed before the Southern Conference a proposal for support of athletes from revenues from athletic contests, as a "cure for surreptitious subsidy."

He proposed that the athletes be supported by the various institutions on an open voucher basis with all expenses covered, with contributions from other sources forbidden, on pain of expulsion.

Says La Coste Will Quit Court Games New York, Dec. 14—(AP)—Rene La Coste of France has played his last international tennis in the opinion of Pierre Etchebadter, world's tennis champion.

Etchebadter, who arrived here yesterday to become court tennis instructor for three months at the Racquet & Tennis Club, said that La Coste is through.

The little Basque who dethroned C. F. Covey of England as world's court tennis champion last year, said La Coste is to be married soon and is too occupied with business to give his time seriously to tennis.

THIS HAS HAPPENED

MRS. EMMA HOGARTH, 40-year-old widow, is struggling to death. LIEUT. STRAWN is assisted in the investigation by BONNIE DUNDIE, "cub" detective. EMIL SEVIER, former boarder whom Mrs. Hogarth accused of trying to rob her, is caught, and CORA BARKER, involved with Sevier, is arrested as material witness but a cut on his forehead, under suspicion sees HENRY DOWD, MR. and MRS. SHARP, NORMA PAIGE, WALTER WYLER, near bankrupt, disliked by Mrs. Hogarth, BERT MAGNUS, amateur scenario writer and DAISY SHEPHERD.

Dundie learns from power in Mrs. Hogarth's trunk that the SALLY GRAVES who wrote her monthly was her daughter and that she lived in dread of Sevier's husband, DAN GRIFFIN, sought for embezzlement. Recalling the details of Sally's murder in New York June 3, increases suspicion Griffin murdered both women and that he is or has been living in the Rhodes House.

An old envelope with Dowd's name on it, showing he left New York June 3, increases suspicion against him. Sevier, captured, denies killing the woman and implicates Cora. Dundie goes for Cora and finds her dead, strangled with her knife blade.

Both murders are fastened on Sevier until the girl who hid him while the police searched for him comes forward with her father and gives Sevier a perfect alibi for the Barker murder. Baffled, police close Dundie out of the case to work on his theory regarding Griffin. Bonnie concentrates his attention on Dowd, whose information about himself has been proved false.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY CHAPTER XLIV

BONNIE DUNDIE fully intended to devote at least two hours of hard thinking that Wednesday night to the murder mysteries which he had so rashly promised Lieutenant Strawn to solve by Monday evening, or confess failure.

But when his telephone rang at eight o'clock it startled him out of a sound sleep and interrupted a gorgeously satisfactory dream—a solution bristling with fantastic clues, secret passages, disguises.

"Hello! Who is it?" Oh, hello, Uncle Pat!" he cried.

"Lieutenant Strawn's just been here, Bonnie," the police commissioner told his nephew, "and I've asked him to give you a free hand since you've got some sort of wild theory and it seems he has none at least about the Barker murder. I told him I'd pull you off the case and let him handle it any way he saw fit, but he confesses himself stumped, and seems to be willing to give you a chance. Maybe he thinks you'll make a fool of your self and that the 'old man' won't interfere with his department again. You've got to uphold the honor of the family, boy!"

"I'll do my best," Dundie answered his uncle gratefully. "It's awfully decent of both of you."

"You realize, of course, that you're working under Strawn, and that credit for anything you may discover goes to him, as chief of the homicide squad."

"I don't care anything about the credit," Dundie retorted. "All I want is a chance to play my hunch. And if Strawn or Turner or any one else gets hold of a better theory I'll be tickled to death to do anything I can to help him prove it."

"One more thing," his uncle went on. "Strawn has detailed two men to guard the Rhodes House night and day, as unobtrusively as possible, and has detailed one of our best men to shadow Dowd. It seems that Dowd has a job soliciting subscriptions for The Morning News."

"Good! That makes it easy to get a specimen of his real handwriting," Dundie replied. "He printed his name in the Rhodes House register—and very amateurishly; an obvious attempt to disguise his penmanship."

"Well, boy, if you get anything definite on him, don't give him too much rope. He might use it on you," his uncle advised with a laugh which was not exactly mirthful.

"I made dusty 'get around' to that yesterday," Mrs. Rhodes said smiling wryly as she quoted her husband's favorite expression.

"So that's that!" Dundie said cryptically. He did not explain that half the mystery which had been tormenting him had been solved. Granted that Dowd was Dan Griffin and the murderer, he would have been forced to leave his room and enter Mrs. Hogarth's by windows. But there still remained the puzzle of why Cora had been murdered at her east window, instead of at the south one.

"I ought to be getting back down stairs," the landlady sighed again. "Mrs. Barker, poor soul, is resting in my room now. She's all worn out, what with reporters around, and that Lieutenant Strawn pawing over Cora's things before he'd let her pack 'em. I guess he didn't find any clues, because he said it would be all right for her to take them away with her. She's taken a great shine to Bert Magnus. Says Cora wrote her how much she thought of Bert, and poor Mrs. Barker was counting on Cora being happy at last. . . . Oh, dear!" she sighed again, as she started to rise.

"Just a minute, please, Mother Rhodes!" Dundie detained her apologetically. "I can't ask any one else, and I must know just what sort of man Arthur B. Wheeler is. What he looks like, I mean."

"You are hard up for somebody to suspect, aren't you?" Mrs. Rhodes gibed as she sank back into the armchair. "Well, I guess you know your own business. . . . Arthur Wheeler is about 27 years old, more'n six feet tall, skinny as a snake, and so light complected he just misses being an albino. His eyes are so blue they look like a new-born baby's, and I guess they're about as strong as a baby's too, because he wears glasses with lenses nearly half an inch thick. They make him look like a scared rabbit."

"Then it wasn't Wheeler who broke his glasses not long ago," Dundie interrupted, memory flashing back to that broken lens he had found in the trash bag in the basement.

"It was Bert Magnus that broke his glasses," Mrs. Rhodes informed him, "though it beats me how you know. Jewel was frolicking around him at breakfast one morning about two weeks ago, and knocked his nose-pinchers off. Mr. Sharp recommended him to his own oculist and Bert had a new lens by dinner time."

"Thanks, Mother Rhodes," Dundie said cheerfully, but mentally he chafed up another disappointment.

"THERE'S a dozen things I ought to be doing," the landlady reproached herself and him as she sank into the only arm chair the room boasted. "Lord! what a day this has been! New locks on all the doors, screens put up—after it's too late to help poor Cora! Any other time I'd have got a sight of pleasure out of seeing dusty June-around like he's done today. Lieutenant Strawn said there wasn't any call to change the locks, but I thought the folks might feel better—and safer." She sighed heavily, as she handed towels and key to her newest boarder.

"Thanks, Mother Rhodes! It was kind of you to go to all that trouble and expense," the boy said sincerely. "By the way, I suppose that loose board in Dowd's closet has been nailed down?"

"I made dusty 'get around' to that yesterday," Mrs. Rhodes said smiling wryly as she quoted her husband's favorite expression.

"So that's that!" Dundie said cryptically. He did not explain that half the mystery which had been tormenting him had been solved. ## AMAZING MURDER TRIAL IS BEGUN; WOMEN ACCUSED

Four Peasants Charged With Gruesome Whole sale Murders

Budapest, Dec. 14.—(UP)—The first phase of one of the most amazing and gruesome wholesale murder trials in history opened Friday—Friday the 13th—at the town of Szolnok when four toll-worm peasant women faced a court on charges of murdering their husbands and relatives.

The four women were but the first of 42 persons, most of them women, who will face charges of murder before the case is closed. The crimes were committed in or near the village of Theisswinkel and police estimated that the women were responsible for more than 100 murders since the war.

The purpose of the murders, almost all of which were accomplished with arsenic, was to gain personal possession of farm lands belonging to husbands and relatives, the prosecution charged.

Men Wine-Drinkers
The defense announced the principal argument in favor of the 42 defendants would be the drunkenness of the men of the little community. The village is isolated in the Theiss river district and the principal pastime of the men was alleged to be heavy wine drinking.

Another defense point was that the village was over-populated and means of earning a living for 1,400 persons in the community was lacking because it was surrounded on all sides by huge estates. The defense also emphasized the lack of religious education of the peasants.

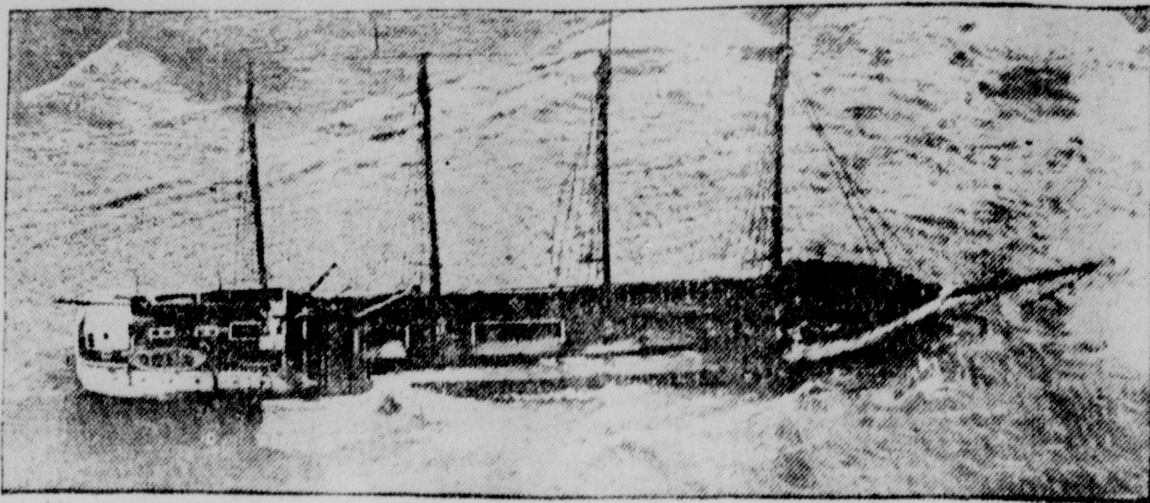

The four defendants who faced the court yesterday—the bitterness of many years told in the fields written on their wrinkled faces—were: Rosa Holyvba, 44, who is accused of poisoning her husband; Lydia Sebestyen, 71, who is charged with being accessory to another poisoning; Juli-ane Lipka, 66, charged with three murders and with being accessory to two others; and Marie Koteles, 50, alleged to have poisoned her husband.

Used to Hard Labor
The women were poorly dressed. Their strong shoulders were bent and their hands knotted. They had been accustomed to start the day's toil at 2 A. M. in summertime. Their lives were typical of the most desperate poverty of middle Europe.

It was among such soil-bound peasants that the Szolnok and Theisswinkel authorities began noticing several years ago the sudden and strange deaths of petty land owners. Later the officials received anonymous notes describing arsenic murders. A police inquiry failed. Last summer another note was received, implicating Frau Josef Madarasz. She finally confessed poisoning her father-in-law and several bodies were exhumed thereby starting this mass murder case.

THE UNBELIEVER
At dinner a little girl became highly elated at discovering the wishbone of the chicken on her plate. At this her little brother remarked, skeptically:
"They're stupid things. I've had three wishbones and daddy hasn't got a motorcar yet."—Moustique, Carleol.

Storm Sweeps Britain

NEA London Bureau

Force of the storms that have ravaged European shipping and swept British towns with floods and gales is indicated by these pictures, taken shortly before the recent widespread destruction. Above is pictured a large four-masted sailing ship, after its crew had escaped, succumbing to the battering of heavy seas off the coast of Pembrokeshire, England. Fifty large vessels and many smaller ones were completely or partially wrecked by gales within two days. Inland, nearly a score of persons were killed by storms and floods, and below you see the scene at Trehaford, Wales just before a high wall collapsed letting in flood waters which inundated a wide area.
